

High Touch

Connects people who share the same dream

Why we need realistic dreamers

In an era when imagination is decoupled from political, economic and geographic constraints, the power of the right people coming together at the right time can be truly transformative. Shapeshifters' High Touch service makes sure that co-creators sharing the same values and worldviews can find each other in any corner of the world. What have you always dreamed of creating?

Money & Meaning

With High Touch, Shapeshifters runs a matchmaking agency for people who are seeking to close the gap between dreaming and doing. Our service is about finding your perfect match: a passionate individual who shares the same creative vision with you and has the necessary resources to turn it into a reality. All we want is extraordinary visions to take shape.

Matching values

In the first round we evaluate the substance of your vision. Is it a real dream or a fantasy? After that we will conduct an appreciative inquiry interview in order to determine your unique "Cultural DNA"— a two page profile that will serve as a passport to our world of co-creators. We will organize a first face-to-face appointment and go along with you as long as you feel the need.
